

COURT ORDERS THAYER MANSION SOLD TO PAY DEBTS

Judge Bernetha Has Foreclosed Mortgage Against the Property—Originally Cost $50,000 to Build.

What is known as the old Thayer mansion located on south Michigan street, the largest and most costly residence of the city, was ordered sold by Judge Bernetha in the circuit court Saturday morning to satisfy the claims of creditors against the property.

The present owner of the mansion is Frank L. Fowler and wife of Chicago. Since its ownership by its builder, the late Hon. H. G. Thayer, the residence has passed through many hands. The late William L. Gear, purchased the property for the sum of $20,000 a few years ago, and with his family resided therein for a couple of years. Since then it has been owned by William M. Brown, and Frank L. Fowler, both residents of Chicago.

The original estimated cost of the Thayer mansion, is $50,000 and when furnished, is said to have cost its builder $80,000. When recently offered for sale, the mansion would not bring $10,000. It is a large three and a half story brick structure with some fifty rooms. Situated in a large beautiful yard, with roadways, etc., when kept in repair, it was a beautiful spot. Today the fine structure is suffering from the want of repairs, and is rapidly depreciating in value.

Foreclose Mortgage.

The reason for the order of the sale of the mansion, is the conclusion of a suit to foreclose mortgage by the Aetna Life Insurance Co., of Hartford, Conn., who hold a claim of $5013.53 against the property. A claim of $863.73 is held by Francis M. Reed, who has that claim for payment of taxes on the property.

The suit was entered as follows: Aetna Life Insurance Co., versus William M. Brown, Maud Brown his wife, Frank Fowler, and —Fowler his wife, William L. Gear, and Mattie J. Gear his wife, and Frank M. Reed to foreclose mortgage. The case was called Saturday morning and Frank L. Fowler and Flora Fowler defendants defaulted. The cause was dismissed by plaintiffs as to William M. Brown, Maud Brown, William S. Gear, and Mattie J. Gear, who were former owners. The cause was submitted, evidence heard, and the court found for the plaintiffs that there was due on the note sued on, principal and interest, and attorney fees, amounting to $5613.53. The sum is secured by a mortgage sued on. That the conditions of the mortgage are broken. Said mortgage be foreclosed and said real estate be sold to satisfy plaintiff's debt and costs without relief. That Frank M. Reed is the owner and holder of certain tax certificates, issued by the treasurer of Marshall county, on sale for unpaid taxes on said real estate. Said taxes, principal and interest amount to $863.76, due to Frank M. Reed, which sum is a prior lien claim to the claim of plaintiffs. Said real estate be ordered sold to satisfy the debt on said Reed, and plaintiffs. The proceeds of said sale are to be applied, first to pay costs, second the claim and debts of Frank M. Reed, third, to plaintiff's claim, and the balance to be paid out by order of the court.

Will Appoint Receiver.

Upon application for a receiver, because of the fact that the property is in danger of being damaged, and injured, and the value thereof depreciated. The court will appoint a receiver, on Monday next, who will take charge of the property, collect rents and profits therefrom. The receiver will file bond in the sum of $2000.

JOLLY CROWD REUNITES.

Miss Hazel Soice Entertains B. D's in Honor of a Bride-Elect.

Close on to five years ago a jolly crowd of girls organized what was known as the B. D's, which consisted of thirteen little maids, bound together by friendship ties. They were formally known as the Princesses DeLa Presse, De La Curly Head, De La Roughnats, De La Yeller, De La Piece, De La Blockhead, De La Chop Souey, De La Lopsy Lousey, De La Quickstep, De La Humpty Dink, De La Tender Foot. Seasons have come and gone. Likewise changes have taken place among this happy band. Heretofore busy Cupid has failed to pierce the hearts of any of these crafty misses, and the first victim is none other than the little Princess Humpty Dink.

Miss Hazel Soice was hostess to a reunion of the crowd in honor of Miss Frances Thayer at the home of the former on west LaPorte street Thursday evening. A three course dinner was served at which the color scheme of pink and green was carried out. The favors being pink hyacinths in their green foliage. Poor Princess DeLa Humpty Dink. A trying ordeal was in store for her. In the rooms were stretched net work of strings. She began to trace each from start to finish and was rewarded at each end with a box of stationery. It was feared for a time that she would give way under the strain, but she was revived by a sight of what was revealed back of the davenport. The Little Princess' departure will be greatly regretted and in this band especially a void created which no other presence can quite make up for. They would not insist on her staying, because her duties call her elsewhere. So here's to her success. One who was there.

From An Indiana Veteran.

Editor Plymouth Tribune:

I was much delighted to read an article in last week's Tribune giving a pen picture of the work of the 75th Indiana infantry on the 17th of August 1863.

I belonged to that grand old regiment and was in every march, battle and skirmish until November 25, 1863, when we encountered the Confederate rear guard east of Missionary Ridge and were ordered to lie down within fifteen rods of the enemy's line. After firing five shots I was knocked out by a musket ball which struck me in the right shoulder, and I am still out. I shall never recover from the effects of that shot.

LOCALS WIN FIRST GAME

SHUT OUT WARSAW CITY TEAM IN BRISK WIND STORM.

Score 3 to 0—Clippers Play Nice Game—Three Double Plays—Pitcher Stars.

The Plymouth Clippers played their initial game in a brisk wind storm at the local ball park Sunday, winning from the Warsaw city team by the score of three to nothing. The Warsaw team was reinforced by Milford players, but were outclassed at all stages of the game by the Clippers. Middleton starred for the locals, getting nine strikeouts against the visitors once, by Enhardt. Twice the Clipper pitcher kept the visitors from scoring with men on second and third bases, and with only one out, a score seemed certain. An easy strike out, and a grounder to first base retired the side however, and after that, the visitors did not get the chance. Considering the strong, cold wind, both teams played an excellent game. Only two errors could be blamed on the wind, and both of these were made by the locals, in miffing high flyers. The Warsaw team is credited with seven errors, four of which were made in the sixth inning, and cost the visitors two scores. All of the scores were made on errors, there being but three hits credited to each side. The Warsaw team then lost the game on errors.

The lineups of the opposing teams were as follows:

Warsaw	Plymouth
Enhardt	pitch
Bamburgh	catch
Vargin	1st b
Carpenter	2nd b
Russ	3rd b
G. Angdon	4th b
Harris	5th b
R. G. Angdon	6th b

DOESN'T KNOW MUCH.

In Attempt to Meddle in Matter of High School Annual Editor Displays Ignorance.

In an article directed at the managers of "The High School Annual", which is to be published by the class of '09 of the Plymouth High School, the editor of the Democrat displays his ignorance of the art of printing, and incidentally reveals what he would do to the students, if he could land the contract for printing, which has been awarded the Tribune office. The Democrat editor speaks of the students being charged $6.00 for ELECTROTYPES, which should only cost about $3.50.

Now it is quite probable that if the aforesaid editor of the Democrat had got the contract, he might have charged the students the sum of $3.50 for electrotypes spoken of, in said article. BUT no electrotypes are going to be used in the publication, and if they were, they could be obtained for the sum of 50 or 60 cents apiece. The "Annual" will use a number of halftone cuts, but no electrotypes. These halftones are secured directly from an engraving house by the students themselves, the Tribune having no hand in buying the halftone cuts.

For the benefit of the editor of the Democrat it may be said that the members of the Senior class would forego the publication of the annual if the contract was given to the Democrat. This was expressed by the class at a meeting held at the first of this school year. While the young men were soliciting advertisements for the publication, three business men of the city inquired if the annual was to be published at the Democrat, and if so, to kindly cancel their contract for advertising.

It seems that the students as well as the public, are on to the Democrat and its editor. A simple illustration of what might have happened to the students is revealed in two bills for legal advertising, presented to the county commissioners for payment yesterday. The bills were for publishing the same notice. The bill from the Tribune according to the legal rate was $7.25. The bill from the Democrat was $8.37. You know the rest. Simply one illustration out of a hundred.

HIBBARD GIRL WAS VICTIM OF CONFIDENCE MAN

Evidence in Divorce Case Shows How Miss Klapp was Deceived Into Marrying Traveling Man

In the suit for divorce, brought by Mrs. Susie B. Sinay of Hibbard against her husband William B. Sinay, the evidence heard before Judge Harry Bernetha this morning, showed how that young lady, whose maiden name was Susie Klapp, was duped into marrying a self-styled traveling man, who later proved to be a cheat and confidence man. Coming to the little village of Hibbard the traveling man won the heart of the well known young lady, whom he later persuaded to elope with him to St. Joseph, Mich., where they were married. Then they returned to Hibbard and lived with the young lady's parents, all the while the stranger representing that he had money in a Chicago bank. Not being content with accepting board from his father-in-law, Sinay beat him out of $175 on a security. The finale of the story is that Sinay took his bride to Chicago, where in a few days he was arrested as a cheat and confidence man, for which he is now serving time in the Illinois State prison. After he had heard the evidence of the young lady and her father, Judge Bernetha granted the divorce, but assessed the costs against the plaintiff. Her maiden name of Susie Klapp was restored.

Were Married Last Fall.

The evidence heard before Judge Bernetha Thursday morning showed that Miss Susie Klapp was married to Wm. B. Sinay at St. Joseph, Mich. on Oct. 17th, 1908. After their marriage they returned to the home of the bride's parents at Hibbard and resided there until about the first of January of this year. All of the time before their marriage and after Sinay represented that he had money in the sum of $2900 in a bank at Chicago. He also represented that he was a traveling man, having a good position with a Chicago firm. He obtained board for himself and for his wife, at the home of his wife's parents, on the strength of this representation. Later he induced his wife's father to go security on a note for $175, which he was later required to pay. About the first of January, Sinay took his wife to Chicago to live. They obtained temporary board at a hotel, while Sinay was to seek apartments. He secured apartments, for which he gave what proved to be a fraudulent check. He was arrested in the hotel before his newly wed wife, as a cheat, forger and confidence man. Upon these charges he was cast into jail, and according to the information of his wife, was later sent to the Illinois State penitentiary. Upon investigation it was found that he had no money in the Chicago bank, and was altogether other-

STORM HITS WALNUT.

Front of Grocery Store Torn Off by Heavy Wind—Other Damage Done.

The heavy windstorm which struck northern Indiana Thursday night, did considerable damage at the little village of Walnut south of Argos in this county. A telephone message to the Tribune this afternoon, revealed the fact that the windstorm which struck there about 8:00 o'clock, tore part of the front off the grocery store, owned by A. Nellans of that place. A barn standing near the L. E. & W. tracks, on the west side adjacent to the elevator, was blown partly off its foundation. The loss amounts to a couple of hundred dollars. ## Mrs. Martin Gets Divorce.

A divorce was also granted to Mary Martin of Plymouth, against her husband, William S. Martin. The plaintiff was given custody of the two children, Edward Guy, aged 10, and Walter Carl, aged 8 years.

The cause for this divorce was drunkenness and cruelty. Mrs. Martin testified that her husband was lazy and shiftless, and drinks in excess. That he did not work to exceed one-third of his time and forced his wife to work hard to support herself and children. That Martin is becoming so addicted to the use of liquor, that he is filthy and foul-smelling, and spends all of his money, and all of his wife's that he can get hold of in drinking. They were married in Starke county on March 22nd, 1897 and lived together until Nov. 27th, 1908, when they separated, and have since resided apart.
